

WE WELCOME

WILMA WELSH

Wilma is life-long missionary and denominational mission employee. Wilma is the moderator of the 132nd General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada. Wilma Welsh was born in Black Lands, N.B. Her family later moved to Guelph, Ont. Growing up in Knox Presbyterian Church in Guelph, she attended church school, CGIT and PYPS. She taught church school, gave leadership in Explorers and CGIT as well as church camping, and was one of the first female elders. Wilma is retired and lives in Guelph. She is a member of the session of Knox Church where she is also the mission coordinator in the congregation, a volunteer program staff position. She is the treasurer for the Women's Missionary Society and president of Waterloo-Wellington Presbyterial.

Wilma served The Presbyterian Church in Canada for over 42 years. Wilma has visited many of the overseas partner churches. These visits have given her an opportunity to experience first hand the work supported through Presbyterians Sharing... Wilma, committed to the world-wide mission of the church, says she feels that strong call to serve the church as a layperson. She continues to share the mission story across the church. She attempts to unofficially keep the church informed of the difficulties on the Bhil field in India or Taiwan's struggle for independence.
