

Where is the Next Generation?

Understanding the Generational Gap in churches and how it's affecting ministry, culture and growth.

With Mike Wasyluk

Mike Wasyluk is the Student Pastor at Country Hills Church in Kitchener ON, and is the Emerging Generations Engagement Facilitator (EGEF) for the Presbytery of Waterloo/Wellington in the Presbyterian Church of Canada. In his role as the EGEF, Mike meets with church staff, elders, sessions, and congregants to help them better understand how the 20-40-year-old age bracket views the church today and helps find ways to bridge the culture gap between all generations. Mike is passionate about helping grow multi-generational churches that are sold out in their mission to spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Mike has over 14 years of Youth and Young Adult ministry experience in churches, group homes, and camp settings and owned a small business for seven years. He and his wife Lauren have been married for 7 years, and just welcomed their first child, Waverley Grace, this past October.

This interactive and informative seminar will give you an understanding of the culture gaps that exist inside and outside the church, how they came to be, and how to reach the next generation with the message of Jesus.
